Cub Scouts Investigate at 2009 Day Camp

DENVER, CO – July 1, 2009 – From Marbles to BB's over 225 scouts from Sheridan, Littleton, Highlands Ranch, Roxborough Park, Greenwood Village and Cherry Hills participated in the 2009 Cub Scouts Investigate Day Camp.

The boys, ages 6-10 had fun doing a variety of crafts, sports, nature awareness, science and outdoor scouting skills, in addition to a various range of sports like marbles, sling shots, archery and BB gun shooting. A popular hit during the Camp was dissecting owl pellets.

Cub Scout Day Camp is a valuable activity for many reasons:

- Offers character development, citizenship training and personal fitness.
- Meets individual boy's needs and interests by offering a meaningful and educational Scouting program.
- Helps recruit new boys in the den and pack during the summer.
- Provides a method of recruiting, training and inspiring present and future Cub Scout leadership.
- Promotes fun and adventure with a purpose — the reasons why Cub Scouts join and stay in the program
- Helps packs succeed.
- Strengthens den/pack organization for better year-round operation.
- Provides continuation of the Cub Scout program during the summer and the opportunity for units to earn the National Summertime Pack Award and to work toward qualifying for the National Quality Unit Award.

About Denver Boy Scouts

The Denver Area Council serves over 60,000 youth through the assistance and mentorship of over 10,000 adult volunteers. The Denver Area Council continues its nearly 100-year tradition of strengthening youth and their families through the delivery of time-honored Scouting programs. The Boy Scouts of America provides youth the opportunity to try new things, provide services to others, build self-confidence, and reinforce ethical standards. Scouting prepares young people to make ethical and moral choices over their lifetime by instilling in them the values of the Scout Oath and Law.
